

PHARMACEUTICAL LEGISLATION UPDATE SUBSCRIPTION SERVICE

NSF®

ABOUT THIS SERVICE

Pharmaceutical legislation and regulatory authority guidance are continually changing. These changes, and their interpretation, can have significant implications for companies. Many changes require detailed planning to implement and failure to do so can result in serious compliance problems.

This service provides you with 12 months of updates of changes to legislation and guidance that have the potential to impact the manufacture and distribution of medicinal/drug products. Full updates will be provided in Q1 and Q3, with interim summaries in Q2 and Q4. The updates will be provided as recordings that can be viewed online and will be supplemented with quarterly live virtual meetings.

This training provides essential information for Qualified Persons and other quality professionals employed by organisations that manufacture or distribute medicinal/drug products.

This service is Royal Society of Chemistry approved as suitable for its members' continuing professional development (CPD).

KEY LEARNING OBJECTIVES

To understand and discuss the current interpretation of recently implemented and proposed changes to legislation and guidance originating from the EU and EMA, ICH, the USA and FDA, and the UK and MHRA, which has the potential to impact the manufacture and distribution of medicinal products.

TUTOR

Peter Gough. Peter has over 45 years' experience in the pharmaceutical industry and for nearly 20 years has been responsible for advising senior management regarding changes to pharmaceutical legislation and guidance.
